HOW FAR WILL SHERRILL REPORT GET?

Unless the general public takes more interest in the sections of the Sherrill State Government Survey, it is not likely to amount to much. Gov. Davey played up this plan strong and asked business and industry to lend their best brains to the state without cost to the taxpayers to make the survey. To date the Governor has not displayed much interest, at least has made no public announcement that he has accepted and will put in force the recommendations.

When the committee exposed the rotten conditions in the Ohio Tax Commission and recommended that a million dollars could be saved in salaries of useless appointees, one would expect a Governor that had asked for such a survey to start to work and show the citizens of Ohio he was in good faith in asking business executives to look into the state government from a business standpoint.

The Highway Department, Utilities Commission and other branches of state government have been covered by the examination but the public has not been informed as to what is to be done by the Governor. In fact about the only comment Governor Davey has made is that "You cannot divorce politics from state business."

It has been nearly a month since the first Sherrill report was given the public. In that time we learn the state administration has decided to pay $114,127 in additional salaries by changes in appointments as well as new appointments, and has only abolished jobs that have saved the state $7920 a year. The Governor also sits back and lets the legislature increase salaries of state appointees, including that of the Governor, at a time when he was asking for more business methods in state government.

WHY NOT INVESTIGATE STATE BUDGET?

Some days ago a request went out from the Ohio State Farm Bureau headquarters in Columbus urging that all citizens take an interest in local budgets and demand reductions.

From one angle the Farm Bureau did a good service and the request was not out of place for it should be the duty of every citizen to be better acquainted with county, township, school and municipal expenditures and have some idea of how and where the tax dollar goes.

From another angle we fear the Farm Bureau leaders have fallen down on their job by not keeping closer tab on the budget for state expenditures. It might be said the Farm Bureau was not interested in what it cost to operate state hospitals, the various prisons, or whether there have been useless expenditures in salaries to political appointees on jobs that could be abolished.

We boldly make the claim that any county in Ohio from the largest to the smallest in population, gets more for its tax dollar than does the state, and the same can be said of municipalities and townships. For that reason the Farm Bureau should have been in position to inform the state that it had used its best efforts to hold down state expenses, but no such statement has been made or is likely to be made. For this good organization to meddle in state affairs might bring a quick reprimand. "All right we will start cutting with the state agricultural appropriation which reaches five million dollars." In as much as most of the farm leaders of the state have a line directly or indirectly in the five million appropriation, we do not soon expect to hear of the Farm Bureau urging radical cuts in that fund. In fact Ohioans would be more than interested if they only knew how many farm leaders were on the state pay roll at some point along the line.

We still say the Farm Bureau did right in calling attention of the public to the various budgets but now it is time for the people of the state to ask the farm organizations to take a little more interest and insist on some cuts in the five million agriculture fund. In this day of over production with farmers being paid by Uncle Sam to cut production, it certainly is out of place for the state of Ohio to appropriate such a sum to continue operations on so lavish a scale. The legislature is to be called in extra session in September to levy new taxes for various purposes. These taxes will hit all classes of people. It will be interesting to watch the attitude of the Farm Bureau and how much reduction it is willing to recommend that the five million can be shaved. Government activities have been curtailed with municipalities and counties in the face of the state demanding more taxes for itself. And all this time the Ohio Farm Bureau has been silent on state expenditures.

PROSPERITY CROWDING ALMS HOUSES

It is remarkable the extent the Roosevelt prosperity has grown the past two years. After experimenting months and months and spending billions and billions to cure unemployment what do we find? First the unemployment situation has proven the real "hot potato" and to cool the Roosevelt fingers it is tossed one day to FERA and the second day to PWA and so on. Next, the New Dealers announce there will be no relief after August first. The day following that announcement there is a change of mind and then relief is to be renewed because the brain-truster-nuts have not yet formulated another new plan.

Government agents travel the country telling state and county officials that Uncle Sam is no longer to be Santa Claus and bonds must be issued to meet the cost of feeding the unemployed. This hits at the pocketbook of the home owner.

Farmers in western states are unable to get help for harvest due to the fact that the unemployed do not need employment as the government purse is open to them. State after state rebelled at the situation and the New Dealers closed relief agencies during harvest to force the unemployed back to farm labor.

Last week in reviewing the Cuyahoga situation the question was asked how many were on any kind of relief back in 1929. The answer was 1,800 families in a county with a city of more than a million people. Today there are 52,000 families on relief. Last year there were 38,000 families this same month.

A few weeks ago the Hoover and Allison Co., Xenia, needed additional help to get out binder twine. It was hard to find, and an effort was made to get men on the relief list to go to work, but not one responded. Two weeks ago one morning we counted fifteen able bodied men sitting in front of the opera house, and at a time farmers were in need of additional help.

What is the answer to the situation we face? Funds exhausted for old age pensions for applications pending. County homes all over the state crowded just as we find the one in Greene county. Local agencies in every city in Ohio supported by Community Chests are hampered by low funds yet in most every city donors are asked to increase gifts to care for those in need.

The answer is as plain as can be. There is not one half the business increase the New Dealers boast of. The cost of production has sent prices of merchandise sky-high to be sold in a market that present day incomes will not absorb. No nation can exist without a reasonable profit to producers whether in the factory, behind the counter or on the farm. With a nation spending capital and not profit we are going not only into deeper debt but backwards, instead of forward. This is proven by the fact that 65 cents of every dollar in circulation today is result of government spending the nation's capital. We can get no where on a safe basis on a margin of 35 cents on the dollar. It is a strange thing that the leading nation of the world can be led into such a situation as we are today. At no time in the past fifty years would the American people have submitted to dictation, wreck and ultimate ruin, under any other administration, Republican or Democrat, as we have up to this time under a communistic-socialistic regime called Roosevelt's New Dealers.

Democracy in Ohio could not trust the press of the state, not even the so-called Democratic papers, to give correct information. The Davey administration has been in very bad with the Democratic press all over the state and not a metropolitan cost newspaper of that political leaning of backing the administration. The Davey followers have issued a newspaper of their own, called "The more county employees than were Ohioans." It will be edited by members of the administration and all the appointments have been given a chance to "subscribe." Not so long ago it was recalled that Gov. Davey at Wilberforce commencement called attention to the fact that it was a pre-time defended Republican acts in arranged affair that the newspapers state or nation but our Democratic were not to give him support, in as friend sees things different now in the much as the people had no confidence county. He did not mention what was in the press. In that way he would go on in Washington but his at have public support. Now the Gov. tion was called to it with Roosevelt forth in the first issue of "The volt heaping the debt to thirty billion" with what he has accom- lish and having placed more than plished. It is singular that he makes 100,000 deserving Democrats on the no reference to the Sherrill survey as federal pay roll, ignoring almost to how the cost of state government every campaign pledge he not only can be reduced. made his own party followers but the citizenship as well. The AAA plans a fifteen per cent reduction in wheat acreage for 1936 according to announcement this any branch of government from week. Now the farmer faces the health officer to president. And more, problem of "To sign or not to sign a contract" in view of some 410 dif- ferent suits in federal courts attack- ing the constitutionality of the AAA "Roosevelt Republicans." For some program. In business circles it is held almost certain that the Supreme Court can do nothing more than hold salaries of school teachers, county officials, and others. We are offering line of reasoning is followed that re- sulted in the death of NRA. In as much as many of the companies ask- ing injunctions against collection of the process taxes also ask for re- ceivers, holding the AAA constitu- tional would wreck the financial set- up of several hundred wheat, corn and hog processors, in as much as these companies must borrow money to pay the processing tax in advance of the sale of the finished products. The government says it will pay benefits to farmers up to a decision of the Supreme Court holding the AAA act unconstitutional. But with tax money now in the hands of hundreds of companies impounded, the farmer will want to know where his pay is to come from.

When Roosevelt announced that he would insist on making it illegal for corporations to make contributions to Community Chests, Hospitals, Libraries, Churches, or Educational institutions, he probably took in more territory than he expected. For years wealthy men and many companies have been regular contributors to worthy funds without taxation but the Roosevelt wants such gifts taxed. Now we see representatives of Com- munity Chests, Educational institu- tions, as well as the Catholic Church, British possessions. In the Act of on their knees begging the Dictator to withdraw his demand. Many of a State Constitution, Congress fixed these institutions gain more of their benefit from contributions than any other source and yet all are for the benefit of the general public.

We just smile when we read of the investigation of lobbyists in Wash- ington, especially when we read the names of so many prominent Demo- crats that are lobbying against the "death sentence" in the utility hold- ing company bill. Of course a Re- publican lobbyist needs investigation never intended. Lake Erie was al- but we do not see how the administration is going to smooth over the attack on former congressmen, Democratic party leaders, all out to kill the Roosevelt "death sentence" bill. To date the House has voted against Roosevelt but the Senate voted under the political lash you are "either for the Dictator or against him." To oppose him you get none of the four billion slush fund in your state—and the Senate vilified.

Some days ago we heard one of our prominent county Democrats com- plaining about the unnecessary cost newspaper of that political leaning of backing the administration. The Davey followers have issued a news- paper of their own, called "The more county employees than were Ohioans." It will be edited by mem- bers of the administration and all For twenty-five years when the Dem- ocrats were on the other side of the to "subscribe." Historical Mileposts
Of Ohio
By C. S. Van Tassel
(Copyrighted)

The controversy between the State of Ohio and the Territory of Michigan over the boundary line between them, finally culminated in 1835. It resulted in armed forces facing each other, but fortunately, there was no actual hostilities and no blood shed. In the Ordinance of 1787, the northern boundary of the Northwest Territory was declared to be a line dividing the United States and the British possessions. In the Act of 1802, giving Ohio the right to form a State Constitution, Congress fixed the northern boundary "by an east and west line drawn through the southern extreme of Lake Michigan, running east after intersecting the due north line from the mouth of the Great Miami (Maumee), until it intersects Lake Erie, or the territorial line thence with the same through Lake Erie to the Pennsylvania line. The line fixed by the Act was an impossible one, for it would pass several miles south of the lake, which was never intended. Lake Erie was al- ways recognized as the northern limit of Ohio. In 1817, under Congressional authority, William Harris surveyed the line claimed by Ohio as her northern boundary, and it was adopted by Ohio legislative authority.

When the territory of Michigan was formed, its southern boundary was fixed as in the Act of Congress authorizing Ohio to form a state. The disputed strip was five miles in width at the west end, and over eight miles wide at the east end. The Michigan claim brought the harbor of Toledo under Michigan Territory, and her jurisdiction, which she proceeded to exercise, sending troops to back up her claim.

Governor Lucas, of Ohio, organized the State Militia and proceeded to Perrysburg to enforce Ohio's claim, and open battle seemed certain. But after much maneuvering politically and otherwise, through a commission, consisting of Hon. Noah H. Swayne, William Allen and D. T. Disney, Michigan was given the Northern Peninsula as a compromise, and the present northern boundary of Ohio agreed upon.

Don't Sell Your Wheat at Present Price
BUT STORE IT FOR SHORT TIME

With the exception of depression years of 1931, 1932 and 1933, wheat has never been so low on Board of Trade in Chicago since 1914, until present time.

First of July, 1914, wheat in Chicago was 77c.

In September, 1914, wheat in Chicago was $1.33.

Sixth of July, 1935, wheat in Chicago was 78c. Within one quarter cent of low of 1914.

The 1914 low was the last low since 1907, when wheat in Chicago in January, 1907 was 71c; wheat in Chicago the next October, 1907, was $1.22; wheat in Chicago, July 6th, 1935, was 78c.

What will it do NOW? It looks like it could go higher. Let us blow your wheat in car and store it for you. Fastest way to unload. Positively no waiting. Ten trucks to haul.

Ag. Teachers

In Conference

Vocational agriculture teachers of this district, including Montgomery, Preble, Darke, Miami, Clark, Champaign and Greene Counties, met at Antioch College Tuesday for a one-day conference.

L. J. George, vocational agriculture teacher of Cedarville High School, was chairman of the morning session. Prof. O. L. Inman and Prof. Charles A. Nesker, of Antioch, were speakers, discussing the methods used and the practicability of developing and growing hybrid corn.

G. S. Hutchison and Prof. H. G. Kinstick, representing the state department of education, discussed various phases of the project program for high school boys.

A number of new departments are being added to this district, including one at Bowersville, it was announced Tuesday.

Twenty-two teachers attended the conference.

Soil Erosion

Camp Proposed

Representatives of the soil erosion department of the Civilian Conservation Administration have under consideration four or five sites in connection with tentative plans to establish a third CCC camp in Greene County, according to an announcement Monday.

Establishment of a new camp, in which approximately 200 young men would be employed for perhaps a two-year period in the prevention of soil erosion, is expected to hinge upon several factors. Local citizens may be expected to provide a satisfactory tract of eight or ten acres, with adequate drainage, available electricity and on a highway. In addition to the direct benefits of farm land, the purchase of provisions and payroll expenditures would bring about $4,000 monthly to trade channels in the community, it is pointed out.

Facts Concerning

F. F. A. Tour

The tour is being financed by each individual boy in the group. This is an annual tour which is being sponsored by the Cedarville Future Farmer Chapter. It is one of their major projects. The tour will be under the supervision of the local instructor L. J. George. The group plans to visit outstanding farms in each state they tour as well as places of historical interest. The tour is so planned that each boy is making a detailed study of one part of the tour. This tour was first organized Feb. 1st, 1935.

The group will spend two days in Washington, D. C. and one day studying the Muscle Shoals Plant.

The boys will attend Sabbath School and church Aug. 11 in Washington, D. C., at the invitation of Mr. J. S. Nofsinger, who was Mr. George's first school teacher, who now has charge of the Home Study Council work in U. S.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE MAKES COUNTY SURVEY

A committee of the legislature appointed to make a survey of school operations in the state made a survey of Greene County schools Wednesday, having completed Clark and Montgomery counties this week also. Dr. W. R. McChesney, local member of the committee of which Sen. James Matthews is chairman. The committee is investigating cost of operation of school transportation and general survey of all school affairs. Greene county stands high in the list of state rural schools for low cost of operation.

SMALL VOTE HERE

There were but four votes cast in the South Twp. precinct Tuesday on the Silvercreek Twp. school bond issue and all were favorable to the plan. But a small part of the district is in Cedarville Township. The vote in Ross Twp. was 5 for and 2 against.

HOG PRICES SOAR

Scarcity of hogs sent the price on Thursday to $11.00 and 11.35 for 180 to 240 lb. first grade in several markets, the highest since 1929. Early in the spring it looked as if there would be plenty of hogs for fall feeding but there is now much sickness in many sections among the herds. They are suffering from a disease that is fatal in most instances.

The annual meeting of Ohio Marylanders will be held Aug. 11 at McCabe Park, Dayton. The address will be given by Judge Mason Douglass of Dayton.

"The Farmer Takes A Wife," At Regent

A heart-warming tale of simple country folk, set in a dramatic and colorful era of American life and showing the tidal wave of humanity and progress through the young nation's great water-way of the west is the basis of the story of Janet Gaynor's new picture, "The Farmer Takes A Wife," which will open a week's engagement at the Regent theater in Springfield, starting Friday.

"The Farmer Takes A Wife," is declared by press critics to be the finest movie Miss Gaynor has ever made and her splendid career has included such hits as "Daddy Long Legs," "One More Spring," and others. Henry Fonda plays opposite Miss Gaynor and the big cast includes Charles Bickford, Slim Summerville, Andy Devine and Jane Withers.

A rip-roaring, hilarious comedy, "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," starring W. C. Fields, one of America's foremost film comedians today, is to open a 4 day engagement at the State theater, in Springfield, Saturday. It is said to be one long roar and the story deals with the always-interesting subject of the family "black sheep" who is outwitted by his in-laws.

Double feature programs, consisting of two first run pictures on the same program at low summer prices, are offered at the Fairbanks theater in Springfield.

BANKERS BUY 1800 ACRES

The Wolfe banking interests in Columbus are reported to have purchased 1,500 acres of what was the Thompson land south of London in Madison county. These same people now have more than 5,000 acres of land in that county and several hundred acres in Clark county. Looks like the financial interests are getting ready for the explosion of the Roosevelt bubble. It may be safer to have government bonds invested in land.

Trading in the hog division ruled very slow with buyers resisting any effort to follow the rise in price levels at nearby terminal markets. Today's top of 10.85 was 5c higher than last week and was paid for a single to good and choice 200 to 225 lb. weights. Weightier offerings sold downward from 10.60. Light lights moved largely within the spread to 10.25 to 10.50 and weights below 140 lbs. sold largely from 10.25 down. Receipts of feeder pigs were light and most offerings went back to the farm at prices ranging from 10.00 to 11.00. The sow market was strong to higher than last Monday, buyers quickly absorbed the light run at prices ranging from 9.25.
Receipts in the cattle division were the lightest so far this year. The meager supply sold on a steady basis as compared with a week ago. Best steers topped at 9.00. Good to near choice heifers brought 7.50. Off head of fat cows sold upward to 5.50 while the bulk of cutters and low cutters sold within the spread of 2.75 to 3.50. Bologna bulls sold steady at 6.00 downward.

THE BOYLAND TRAIL

I marvel at Harvey's quaint mimicry. If a guinea says anything at all it is most certainly "Not yet, not yet!" Then there was Harvey's quaint legend that the cat bird far in the deep woodland thicket was calling: "Can't see me—Can't see me—Can't see me—e-e!" With the Pheobe bird answering with the call: "Here he is, H-e-e-e he is!" So many the time in after years while hunting squirrels have I listened to these woodland voices and stifled a chuckle at the accuracy of Harvey's interpretations.

WE MUST EDUCATE

When our fathers started in life, few of their competitors in the struggle for advancement were educated. It is different today: every walk of life is crowded with those who are schooled and fitted for that very line of work. How shall your child succeed under such circumstances? Only by receiving a liberal and broad preparation before entering the race. The fact too, that education is the handmaid of religion should in a moral community like this be an additional argument of great weight.

Then, the economic benefit to the community is one of vital importance. A large number of young people will spend their money at home or abroad. Why not at home where less money will do, and they remain under the parental roof?

As parents, as citizens, as Christians, I ask you to consider the responsibility of failing to aid in this great enterprise. It is within your reach. You will pass through this world but once. Do what you can to make it a better and happier world.

CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK

Of Xenia, is the depository for many firms and families over this part of the State, who have relied upon its wise course to amply supply them with all banking needs and at the same time protect them in the safeguarding of their accounts.

Among the financial institutions of the community, there are indeed few which can show more substantial progress. The Citizens' National Bank is noted for its sound energetic, and conservative management, commanding in a marked degree the confidence of their depositors and of the public at large, a condition that is the aim of any executive board.

This bank is prepared to care for the accounts of individuals, firms, corporations, and estates, and they invite interviews or correspondence with those contemplating making changes or opening new accounts. Uniform consideration is given small and large deposits.

Its officers have worked side by side for the advancement of business in this part of the state and they thoroughly understand its banking needs.

EICHMAN'S

Electric Shop, 52 West Main Street, has been an important factor in the modernization of the homes of the Community. They are electrical contractors and they feature a wide selection of fixtures and household appliances, including the new air-cooled Electrolux, the Servel Gas Refrigerator, Philco and Zenith Radios, and Maytag Washers.

The Electrolux occupies an important place in the American Home in these days of enforced economy, for it is noted for its fool-proof and economical operation. It has no moving parts, which means that it calls for no repairs. It is built to give lifetime service and is permanently silent.

Eichman's are distributors of real comfort and efficiency to the farm and suburban home, for through their service there is not a home in the County, no matter how far they are located from the gas mains, that cannot enjoy the ownership and luxury of this modern refrigerator for the Electrolux can be operated efficiently with kerosene as well as with gas.

When you are in Xenia shopping, stop in and see the Electrolux. Those in charge will be glad to give you prices and explain its low operating cost.
